Well...

What a great deal! I love renting for school because its never worth the price to buy.
Be sure you read the fine print, unlike me. There are A LOT of projects your instructor will assign which require the CD that is supposed to come with the book. Apparently with their used items "supplementary materials are not guaranteed". Mine was "Lost in transit" and they will not provide a replacement, but I was told that perhaps I could buy it from the manufacturer. Guess who can not do half of his coursework this summer without the good grace of his classmates.
Do not take the risk IMHO. rent it from your schools bookstore even if it is a little bit more expensive.
The book was in fair condition when it arrived and I am not being charged for the 'lost' CD so I guess that is nice.
